

Experience Painless Application/Infrastructure Migration with Alletec

Application migration to Azure modernizes all your mission-critical workloads and extends innovation and flexibility at every stage of your business.

Yet, many myths exist around Azure migration:

- The cost is unaffordable for small-sized businesses.
- Control over the business data is lost once the Azure service provider comes in between.
- The data security with Azure is vulnerable.

So, what's the truth?

- Azure has various built-in pricing models to help you with the management of the products you are using, as well as tools to optimize your choices to fit the budget of even a small-sized business.
- Integration with Active Directory, RBAC, and MFA allows your data to be accessible only to the designated people.
- Azure offers a wide array of top-notch data security tools and capabilities to preserve data. Plus, there are configurable security options to create customized data security.
